THURSDAY MORNING, NOV 26, 1863

Thanksgiving Day.

We are summoned by National and State Proclamations to devote this day to services, expressive of our profound gratitude to the ALMIGHTY RULER for the great benefits which He has granted to us, and of our earnest and anxious desire that in His great mercy and loving kindness, He will continue to bless us as a Nation, as a State, and as families and individuals. To the largest part of our readers, the day recalls associations of peculiar and loving interest. It brings the old, familiar home—the warm clasp and cordial greeting of faithful fathers and mothers, of affectionate brothers and sisters, now far away—perhaps gone forever from our earthly sight. Tears blind our eyes, as memory carries us to the joyous scenes of boyhood and youth, now, alas! covered with the melancholy pall in which death envelopes all human happiness. But our remembrance of them can never fade away, and while the sons and daughters of New England live, and wherever they wander, the anniversary festival of thanksgiving and praise, will never fail to remind them most effectively of the precious privileges and honest pleasures enjoyed by them when among "the old folks at home."

We do not propose to recount the multiplied causes for gratitude, which should turn our hearts in adoration to the "Giver of every good and perfect gift." We do not forget that many of our readers will to day be reminded that there are vacant chairs around the family fireside, because those who occupied them last year, have been called to a better home in Paradise. Little ones, loved beyond expression—fond husbands and wives—cherished brothers and sisters—sainted fathers and mothers—some of all these from almost every household, have gone above to join in constant and eternal thanksgiving and praises.

It is well that we suspend our daily avocations and consider how wonderfully, amid all the dangers and afflictions and temptations, that have thronged around our paths, we have escaped and been preserved. Grand victories have crowned the noble self-consecration and services of our brave brethren on numerous bloody battle fields. Shouts of rejoicing have repeatedly gone up from every loyal heart in the land, because tidings came on the lightning's wing, that the power of the nation had won new and more glorious triumphs over treason and insurrection. These have inspired the people of the United States with a loftier love for the land of their birth, with a nobler pride in its institutions of freedom, and with a more persistent and resolute determination to maintain and preserve them in pure integrity against all the assaults of domestic or foreign foes. For all this, how abundant and overflowing should be our gratitude! Yet while we rejoice because of the great blessings bestowed upon us, we must not—we cannot forget the severe and sublime sacrifices which have been made, to day, thoughts of these will press with heavy and solemn weight upon hundreds of thousands of hearts, which almost refuse to be comforted, and yet are full of thanksgiving that they were counted worthy to make such sacrifices for the sake of their country. There is a history in almost every patriotic household, which words cannot express, but which is embalmed in sanctified memory forever. Its representative—father, son or brother—summoned in the nation's peril, by its agonizing cry for help, went forth to return no more. The hill-sides and valleys of Virginia—the prairies of Kentucky—the swamps of Louisiana and Mississippi—all these have been reddened by patriot blood, shed to save them from the dominion and the curse of treason and of despotism. No fleeting words of human praise can gild the record of their glory. From the din of the conflict, they have passed to the peace of eternity, winning a fame by the sacrifice of human life for liberty, which shall be held in honored and everlasting remembrance.

Nor should we—nor can we—forget another vast multitude—the sick and wounded—who, saved from death to suffer agonies more intense and terrible, than ever dying brings, now crowd hospitals by thousands and tens of thousands. Do they not deserve, have they not nobly earned our largest, our most cordial sympathy and assistance? True, the Pacific coast has most generously contributed for their comfort and recovery, and sufferers on couches of pain and languishing, have uttered their grateful thanks for the timely relief, bestowed by the large hearted philanthropy of California, Oregon and the adjacent territories, but new thousands have taken their places, and still larger processions are likely to follow, so long as the war continues—whole brigades the weak, the bleeding and dying, during the past two months have been borne from the field to seek shelter, perhaps for a few hours of fast throbbing life, or to gain new strength to fight new battles. Does not their cry reach our ears? Shall it be in vain?

> "Shall we turn away when our brothers appeal
> To the youngest of all, who like Benjamin found
> The silver cup, hid in his measure of meal?"

Surely we cannot, and we can as a community prove our sincere gratitude to day in no more decisive manner than by generously responding to this appeal from bleeding, dying lips, which have been wounded for us. Let the hands which we raise in praise be open in charity, freely dispensing the gifts which duty demands that we should promptly bestow upon those, whose labors and health and lives have protected us and our beloved country from division and conquest and ruin.

EASTERN NEWS.

FORTRESS MONROE, Nov 1 — The steamer Massachusetts from Charleston bar on Friday morning, arrived this afternoon. She reports that the firing was still kept up on Sumter. The fort was entirely demolished. The rebels put up a flag every night, which is shot away every day. There has been no firing on Charleston of late.

The Richmond Whig has the following:

CHARLESTON, Nov 9 — Slow firing has been going on all day on Sumter. Fifty eight rifled shots were fired from Battery Gregg last night—all directed at the southwest angle of the fort. Sixty rifled shots were fired to day and twenty five shell, of which seven missed. The number of shot and shell fired during the bombardment is [illegible] thousand three hundred and forty six, of which seventy seven hundred [illegible]. No casualties have transpired.

CHARLESTON, Nov 10 — The firing from Gregg on Sumter to day, was at intervals of half an hour. Two Monitors came up and fired thirty shots. No new movements were made.

The Richmond [illegible] admits a rebel defeat on the Rappahannock and says Hooks and Hays brigades were captured.

NEW YORK, Nov 1 — A special dispatch to the Times, dated Washington, November 12th, says: Detachments of infantry and cavalry this morning handsomely thrashed Stuart's Cavalry near Mitchell's Station, three miles southwest of Culpepper. The rest of the army remains quiet. We now hold all the grounds in Culpepper county which we held six weeks ago. Through the Winter camps on the south side of the Rapidan, our advance guard found scattered about numerous tin cans, once filled with prepared meats and vegetables and were interested to find on them Baltimore and New York labels. Lee's troops were hard up for shoes and clothing. That they proposed to Winter between the Rappahannock and the Rapidan is further proven by their preservation of the railroad connecting the two rivers, but the rebels on their retreat across the Rapidan, destroyed the railroad bridge which spans that stream.

A headquarters dispatch dated November 12th, to the Herald, says: Large reinforcements of workmen and several car loads of ties and rails came up to day for the completion of the railroad to Culpepper. The railroad will be working to the Rapidan by Monday night (16th). All quiet in front. We occupy with a strong infantry force the old battle field of Cedar Mountain.

The Herald's Washington special dispatch says: Advices from Pensacola state that the fever which had been unusually fatal had abated.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY POTOMAC, Nov 12 — There is no truth in the rumor that Lee left the army of Northern Virginia. He occupied the camping ground which was our headquarters, on Tuesday near Brandy Station. Citizens here saw and conversed with him.

A cavalry reconnoissance made on the right to within a few miles of Madison Court House found no live rebels, but the bodies of the dead killed by Kilpatrick in his late advance upon that village were where they fell. Clark's and Thoroughfare Mountains are again occupied as rebel signal stations. Nearly every movement of Meade along his entire front can be clearly seen from these natural look outs. The rebel earthworks at Barnett's, Rappahannock and Germania, thrown up in October, are being enlarged and the line of rifle pits extended further up the hills. It is thought hardly possible that General Meade will attack these strongholds in front.

A Washington correspondent says: It is the opinion of Department circles that the present attitude of Russia toward France and England will end in a war. The State Department has encouraging advices from England and France, indicating that the construction of iron clads for the rebels in future will be prevented.

The news from East Tennessee is to the effect that all East Tennessee, up to Knoxville, has been recaptured from Burnside, who is said to be however impregnably situated at Knoxville.

Another week is expected to be full of exciting news from Meade, who has not yet ended his campaign.

The steamer Yazoo from New Orleans, November 4th, has arrived. A collision occurred on the Opelousas Railroad between two trains, killing from twelve to sixteen of the Ninety seventh Illinois Regiment and wounding nearly seventy others. The other trains had the Fifty fourth Illinois Regiment on board, two of whom and some rebel prisoners were injured.

Nothing is reported about army movements.

The New Orleans Era of November 4th states that the rebels attacked Washburne's advance on the 3d, driving it toward the main body. They were soon checked, however, and in turn attacked and pursued. Our force captured two hundred prisoners. Our loss was forty killed, the rebel loss was one hundred killed.

The New Orleans correspondent of the Express, dated New Orleans, November 4th, says: Our forces have fallen back to New Iberia.

In reference to the reported attack on Washburne's advance, on November 3d the same correspondent says: If the rebels attacked our advance it was some distance this side of Vermillionville for the army was south of Bayou Vermillion at the time on its march back of the Teche. There is rumor here of a disaster and a loss to the extent of two thousand men—said to come from a Union Major.

WASHINGTON, Nov 12 — The Navy Department has intelligence of the capture of the steamers Cordelia, Anna, and Stella, inward bound, with valuable cargoes of stores and ammunition.

CHATTANOOGA, Nov 12 — All quiet around Chattanooga. Reliable intelligence from Bragg's army is to three o'clock A M, at which time the rebel pickets were posted twelve [?] miles toward our lines. Disaffection among the rebels is no longer confined to Kentucky and Tennessee troops, but is widespread among others. Our daily receipts of deserters average twelve to fourteen. Hardee has been assigned to the command of Polk's corps, and has relieved Longstreet on Lookout Mountain. The latter has gone, with fifteen hundred troops and part of the cavalry, to reconnoiter. The balance of the cavalry has gone to Iuka (Miss.) Chapman's division has returned. Bragg has now three full corps—Hardee's, Breckinridge's and Buckner's. Sixty thousand men is a low estimate of his force.

A duel between the Lookout and Raccoon Point batteries occurred this noon. Our practice was fine—several shells bursting directly over Point Lookout. The reply was vigorous, but we suffered no casualties.

Thirty days furlough has been granted to the farmers among the Georgia State troops, to allow them to sow their wheat.

All quiet with Hooker.

BUFFALO, Nov 13 — Major General Dix has been ordered to Buffalo to adopt measures for the security of the frontier. The Mayor has taken steps to guard against incendiarism, and is in communication with Governor Seymour relative to military affairs.

SANDUSKY (Ohio) Nov 13 — Everything is quiet here. Very little excitement exists in the city. Everything is in readiness. Troops are now here and others are on the way. Johnson's Island and Sandusky are considered safe. Batteries have been posted so as to fully command the entrance to the harbor and bay. The United States steamer Michigan is off the Island.

ST LOUIS, Nov 14 — Gratz Brown (Radical) of St Louis, was to day elected United States Senator from Missouri, on the first ballot by seven majority.

WASHINGTON, Nov 13 — To day Senator Conness, of California, presented to the President an elegant gold mounted hickory cane, which was presented to Conness by Broderick when the latter was Senator. Conness deemed it appropriate to present this gift to President Lincoln. The inscription is as follows: "Broderick to Conness" "Conness to President Lincoln."

The President has commenced writing his annual message, and will necessarily have to limit the hours of receiving visitors until after Congress meets. There is quite a gathering of politicians here. Among the prominent Pennsylvanians who arrived to day is Governor Curtin. Thurlow Weed has also arrived.

General Grant forwards advices from Burnside and Thomas to the effect that no more rebel demonstrations had been made on their respective fronts. Burnside remarks that is entirely safe. The enemy is somewhat uneasy in front of Chattanooga. Rumors prevail alike of their advance and retreat—refugees telling both stories. It is quite probable that the junction will be broken in the vicinity of that place at no distant day.

WASHINGTON, Nov 14 — The President decided that owing to the tremendous pressure of public business it would be impossible for him to attend the consecration ceremonies at Gettysburg on the 19th of November, much to his regret.

A dispatch bag which floated from one of the blockade runners captured off Wilmington contains voluminous and highly interesting correspondence from the rebel emissaries abroad. All hopes of foreign aid seem to have vanished. De Leon writes from Paris that the Confederates must buy golden opinions if they would have them, and declares that the French are even more mercenary than the English.

The intelligence from General Grant contains [illegible] of [illegible] his Department.

[illegible] that [illegible] the Rapidan and has recommenced [illegible]. The water in the Rappahannock [illegible] that the river is fordable at two points. The rebels [illegible] work of guarding it very [illegible]. [illegible] enemy, one daring night should make a dash across and [illegible].

NEW YORK, Nov 1[illegible] — A new [illegible] correspondent of the Tribune says, relative to the capture of the [illegible] Confederate [illegible] that Colonel Thornton of the rebel army was a passenger in her but escaped capture. The Lord Mayor of London is said to have entered into an agreement to furnish ammunition to ships of war to the rebel Government. Wilmington (North Carolina) papers were also found on the Prize, in which it was stated that ex-Mayor Wood of New York was getting up a joint stock company with a firm under the name of [illegible] Co., to furnish vessels to run the blockade.

A Headquarters Army of the Potomac dispatch to the Tribune says: A reconnoissance was made by the enemy yesterday to the vicinity of Stevensburg, which is occupied by Kilpatrick's cavalry. Not more than half a dozen shells were thrown on either side and on the advance of our cavalry the enemy were driven off. The railroad will be in running order to Culpepper on the [illegible].

The Herald's special dispatch, dated Army of the Potomac, November 13th, says: The weather is favorable to active movements. A deserter from the Ninth Alabama Regiment, who came into our lines yesterday, states that large numbers laid down their arms since the fight at Rappahannock Station and refused to serve any longer in the rebel army. They were ordered under guard, but succeeded in dispersing themselves through the country and are seeking opportunities to come to the Union lines. He represents that a very despondent feeling exists in the rebel army of Virginia. The general belief in the ranks is that their cause is becoming more hopeless as time passes.

A letter found in one of the rebel camps near the Rappahannock, written by a North Carolina soldier, says the mountains of that State are full of deserters from the rebel army, and mentions that Captain Blank was coming up to the mountains with a military force to arrest deserters. He emphatically remarks that if the Captain gets them he will have a good time.

The Post says the Government has authorized General Neal Dow, now in Richmond prison, to draw upon General Meredith for every article of clothing needed by the Union prisoners.

Inspector J. A. Boole was nominated for Mayor by the Tammany Democracy.

Sterling dull 161@161½. Gold closed quiet at 1[illegible]. Total exports of specie to day $2[illegible],000. Government Securities a little firmer.

The World's special dispatch from Buffalo says: Attorney General McDonald is here. He brings information which shows the existence of a plot for the release of the scheme from citizens of Baltimore two months ago. It appears that a number of Secessionists were to take passage on the Chicago and Ogdensburg propellers, seize them and then intercept the Detroit and Buffalo steamers, and then threaten Ogdensburg and Buffalo. They were to be aided by emissaries in Buffalo who would fire that city. The Canadian Ministry have taken ample measures of precaution. There are eighteen thousand Secessionists in Canada.

The Examiner of November 11th, after giving a statement of the capture of two of their brigades, says: It is believed that Lee expected Meade's advance, but was not prepared for so early and vigorous an attack. It now appears that Meade can advance as quickly as he retreats.

The Examiner demands the dismissal from the army of the Brigadiers who commanded the captured brigades, for their disgraceful negligence.

The Enquirer of Nov 10th says: there is no material change at Charleston. The Yankees keep up a continuous fire day and night, but with little loss. We have confidence that Charleston is as strong as ever it was.

The Charleston correspondent of a Georgia paper says: Should the Yanks try the strength of our land forces they would get the worst thrashing any army ever received. Every day adds to our strength while it lessens theirs.

A rebel correspondent writes to the Atlanta Intelligencer, from Missionary Ridge that our [rebel] extreme right now occupies London, which gives us command of the Tennessee river to that point bringing our forces within 23 miles of Knoxville. An important movement is expected in that direction. The enemy evacuated the fortifications at London at our approach.

The Examiner says five pieces of cannon are now planted in position bearing on the prisoners at Belle Isle. Any demonstrations to overpower the guard will result in thinning out their number amazingly.

The Richmond Examiner of November 14th says their army is quietly awaiting an attack from Meade—it was thought there would be a flank movement toward Fredericksburg. The Examiner foreshadows another retreat by Bragg, and speaks of disorganizers and cowards in the councils of their Western army.

The Enquirer of November 10th says Meade has inflicted a terrible blow on Lee in Western Virginia. The disaster to Ewell's command [on the Rappahannock] shows that the enemy are active and apprehensions are felt for the safety of the Railroads of North Carolina. The enemy [Federals] have landed a large force at Winston, N C, and threaten the southern line of railroads at Weldon. On the Peninsula, the enemy is reported to be landing large numbers at Newport News.

TORONTO, C W, Nov 14th — The Advertiser, a secession paper, to day admits the failure of the naval plot, and says the Confederate Government has fitted out the steamer R. E. Lee, from Wilmington to Halifax, with a cargo, to furnish funds. Thirty six officers and 500 men were to come over land in small parties to a general rendezvous. Their intention was to surprise the Federal garrison at Johnson's Island, release the prisoners there and convey them to Canada. Their orders were not to violate British neutrality, only to release 2,000 valuable lives from such headquarters which were designed to kill by slow degrees.

BALTIMORE, Nov 13th — The American has a special dispatch from Fortress Monroe which says General Fitzhugh Lee [W. H. F. Lee?] was yesterday put on a steamer, to be sent to Fort Lafayette.

Rev H C Trumbull of the Tenth Connecticut Regiment, who has been a prisoner at Richmond, and who was exchanged last Wednesday, says that two days previous to his leaving Libby Prison the officer's daily rations consisted of about one third of a pound of bran and water. No meat had been served for several days. The rebel Quartermaster told the prisoners it was not his fault—that he had none to give them, and that that day he had been unable to furnish anything whatever to the prisoners on Belle Isle, and that it was with the greatest difficulty he could get the smallest supply of meat for the hospitals.

A gentleman who arrived in this city to day, direct from Charleston Bar, expresses great confidence in the progress of the operations now going on there and predicts the capture of Charleston in a few weeks.

CUMBERLAND GAP, Nov 13th — A spirited skirmish with the enemy occurred yesterday ten miles from the Gap. A forage train of 21 wagons had been sent out with a guard of 28 men. The wagons had been loaded and started for the Gap when seventy five guerrillas rushed from an ambush, overpowering the guard and compelling them to surrender. A few moments after the capture, Col. Stewart who is in command at the Gap, appeared at the bend of the road and immediately led a charge of ten men of the Fourth Battalion of Ohio cavalry. A fierce hand to hand saber fight occurred for a few moments, when the rebels fled. Several prisoners were taken and the supply train was recovered.

HALIFAX, Nov 13th — The Asia, with dates to Nov 1st, has arrived. Henry Ward Beecher was a passenger. The Asia's news had [illegible] Much surprise was expressed at Rosecrans' removal.

There had been some commotion in naval circles in England owing to a rumor that an attempt would be made to take to sea by force, the steam rams in the Mersey. Orders were received [illegible] to Liverpool, and after some indecision and countermanding of orders, the iron plated frigate Prince Consort started for Liverpool. Meantime an iron gunboat reached the Mersey October 28th and was anchored opposite Laird's Yard ready to start at a moment's notice.

The first step will be the establishment of lines from Liverpool and London to New York of steamers of large size and capacity for freight and passengers. The [illegible] steamers has been provisionally purchased and contracts have been made for others of 3,000 tons each.

The Mersey rams remain in possession of armed marines. The work on them [illegible] suspended. Two gunboats always kept watch over Laird's yard.

Yesterday Surveyor McLean made examination of the different stores of Chinese merchants who sell opium and seized thirteen cases smoking opium on suspicion of their being [illegible] smuggled from the Pacific. The total seized amounts to twenty chests, which leaves eight chests unaccounted for. The evidence in this case is said to be very strong and that very likely the steamship Pacific will be forfeited to the United States through the [illegible] of her first mate. The duties being eighty per cent ad valorem and the chests valued at $800 each, nearly $15,000 would have been gained by the successful smuggling of twenty eight chests.

On the 24th of October there was issued from the Mint [illegible] certificate No. [illegible] for [illegible] ounces of gold dust, payable to [illegible] Clark & Co. On the arrest of the Idaho murderers it was found that the gold was deposited by them, the certificate being found in the person of Romaine, and that it was a portion of the treasure brought by the murderers of Magruder. Assistant Treasurer Cheesman immediately stopped the payment of the certificate, and advertised, warning the public against negotiating for it. In the meantime however the officer who had the prisoners in charge induced them to indorse over the certificate, and endeavored to procure its payment as they said to cover some necessary expenses and that the balance might be remitted to Magruder's widow. Cheesman refused to pay it, on the ground that it became his duty, as a public officer, the moment he discovered the money had been obtained by crime to hold it in charge until the proper parties could be notified. The heirs of the murdered Magruder have received notification that the money, some $7,000 or $8,000, will be delivered to them on their proving their interest in it.

THE NEWS.—We have no later intelligence [by the] Pacific, than was received yesterday [b]y mail, and is in our columns this morning. [Th]ere are many items of interest, though [no]thing decisive in regard to war matters. The election of Gratz Brown to the United [St]ates Senate from Missouri is a significant [pr]oof of the progress of anti slavery sentiment [in] that State, and will doubtless encourage [th]e "Charcoal" faction in the expectations of [con]trolling political affairs and accomplishing [th]e abolition of slavery at an earlier date than [wa]s proposed in the recent Constitutional [Con]vention. An abolitionist from Missouri, [as] Mr Brown boasts that he is, will be a [nov]el sight in the Senate Chamber. The [wor]ld is "marching on," and seems likely to [wi]th John Brown's soul.

ARRIVAL OF THE PACIFIC.—This steamer, [wh]ich has been looked for with some anxiety, [arr]ived last evening, at 9 o'clock. She brings [th]e Idaho murderers. Below we give her [list] of

[PASSEN]GERS.—J Fountain, G Hodges, R Mulholland, [illegible] J Mulholland, L Howard, Miss Murphy, Mrs L [illegible] and daughter, Mr Moores, Chas E Calef, A G Hag[illegible] J H Fairchild, Capt Moulthrop and wife, Hill Beachy, [illegible] Robinson, J R Curtenay, Miss Browning, C Hendricks, [illegible] McDonald, Mrs A Morris, Mrs Crane, Mrs McConly and [illegible], Nathan Rogers, Mrs Mulholland, Jas Hogg, J W [illegible], John Goodrich, D Lowell, Capt Elliott, Wasserman, [illegible]dall, E Kelly, Miss Fanny Morgan, E Barr, Mrs [illegible], H Parker, J R Allen and children, A G Hovey, [illegible] Hensley, J S Ruther, F W Coleman, L Heath, G W [illegible]genborgh, Nelson Johnson, Mrs H Cliff, C G Fisher, [illegible] Moore, Jacint, Robert Morton, W Morrisey, A Mc[illegible], J M Greene, B Ireland, Robert Wilson, M J [illegible], J W Call, (J A Lord, Wells, Fargo & Co's messenger) and 70 others. FENTON, Purser

THE IDAHO MURDERERS, brought up from [San] Francisco by Hill Beachy, on the Pacific, [we]re transferred to the Julia below the mouth [of] the Willamette, and started at once for the [up]per country, under a strong military guard [com]manded by Gen Alvord, from Vancouver. [The]m had been kept on the Julia for more [tha]n thirty hours, awaiting their arrival.

ARRIVAL OF THE BARK HELEN W. ALMY.—[Th]is bark, Capt Freeman, 18 days from San [Fran]cisco, arrived last evening in tow of the [ste]amer Couch, with 6,417 packages of merchandise. Below is her manifest.

[Ric]hards & McCraken, 108 packages merchandise, Smith [illegible], 350; Charman, Warner & Co, 160; H & S, 15; [illegible] A Bush, 1 300; B F Smith, 100; Hodge & [illegible] Elfelt, Well & Co, 50; G W Vaughn, 25; S B R; [illegible] Seller & Co, 201; Allen & Lewis, 1,039; J G [illegible] S, Milwain & Morse, 214; A J Block & Co, 27; [illegible] & Co, 250; A B, 1,060 bars iron; Geo L Story, 30 [illegible] furniture; O S N Co, 57 casks coal; K B & Co, 150 [illegible] merchandise.

[LA]TE NEWS.—The steamer John H Couch, [on] her last down trip, towed the barkentine [illegible] A. Falkenburg, Capt Wiggin, from the [mou]th of Lewis river, where she has been [load]ing in piles, to Oak Point, for a deck load [of l]umber. Thence, the steamer towed the [illegible] Almatia, Capt Richardson, to the mouth [of the] Columbia, sailing Tuesday with about [illegible] M ft. lumber. The bark Julia Cobb, Capt [illegible], is now taking in piles near the mouth [of] the Cowlitz, and will soon drop down to [Oak] Point for a deck load of lumber. The packet schooner Ellen sailed on Tuesday from Astoria for Tillamook, and a small [slo]op, name unknown, sailed at the same time [for] the Indian Reservation.

MISS FANNY MORGAN.—The arrival of this [act]ress last night from San Francisco—where [w]e learn she has just completed a successful [en]gagement at Maguire's Opera House—was [hai]led with delight by the theatre-goers who [he]ard of it. She appears to-night at the Willamette.

GOLD DUST.—Messrs Wells, Fargo & Co, [by] steamer Wilson G Hunt, brought down [las]t night $40,000. One hundred passengers [ca]me down, many of whom were well supplied [wi]th the "oro."

RICHARDSON'S AUCTION ROOMS—a popular [res]ort for those in want of bargains. Read [the a]dvertisement of the Toy Sale, then go and [bu]y. "'Twill be so handy to have them in [the] house."

THE BOX OFFICE at the Willamette Theatre [wi]ll be open to day, and during every day of [th]e engagement of Miss Morgan, so that seats [ma]y be secured in advance.

THE COMMON COUNCIL met last evening, [an]d after a short session adjourned. Nothing [of] special importance was done.

POST OFFICE HOURS TO-DAY.—The Post [Off]ice in this city will be closed this morning [at] 8 o'clock and remain closed until 5 o'clock, [P.] M., in observance of the day.

SYNAGOGUE BETH-ISRAEL will be opened at [ha]lf past ten this morning, when appropriate [se]rvices will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Eck[illegible].

RAILROAD MEETING.—Met at the Court House at [illegible] o'clock. The committee appointed at the former [mee]ting reported by A. Holbrook, the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

[Res]olved, That the citizens of Portland earnestly approve [of a]ll measures which are calculated to develop the vast resources of the State of Oregon and the adjacent Territories, [and] will encourage to the utmost of their ability all practicable schemes of internal improvement having this object [in] view.

[Res]olved, That it is highly important and needful for the prosperity of the State that communication by railroads [sho]uld be established between the Sacramento valley and [the] Columbia river, and also between the Columbia river [and] the Pacific Railroad, at some proper point along its [line].

[Res]olved, That the citizens of Oregon be respectfully [invited] to consider these projects, and to labor actively for [the]ir accomplishment, by such subscriptions for preliminary surveys as are necessary, and by pressing upon our delegation in Congress the claims of the people of the North Pacific Coast for the aid of the Government in the construction of the lines of railroad so much demanded for [its] progress and prosperity.

The meeting was addressed by Mr Turley and G [H] Williams.

Upon motion, and adoption of resolution, the following gentlemen were appointed a committee to memorialize Congress for grants of land in reference [to] Oregon Railroad: C M Carter, G H Williams, A. Holbrook, G W Vaughn, H W Corbett, E D [Sha]ttuck, A B Elfelt, Asa Harker, H Seymore, G [illegible] Flanders. On motion, adjourned.

W. J. C. JOHNSON, Sec'y. R J LADD, Chm.

[PERHAP]S IT IS A MISTAKE.—The Walla Walla [St]atesman has a report, brought by some persons from the Bitter Root Valley, of the election returns from that section, together with [th]e result in the different precincts on the [ot]her side of the Rocky Mountains. The intelligence is to the effect that John M Cunningham received almost the entire vote in those [pr]ecincts—giving him a majority there of one [th]ousand ballots. If this be substantially [tr]ue, Mr. C is elected Delegate to Congress [fr]om Idaho.

MILITARY ORGANIZATION.—Mr Robert R. [illegible]aughlin, of Yamhill County, has enlisted [fo]rty men for a militia company, and has been

Do they fill Rebel Soldiers with Whisky?—The Chattanooga correspondent of a Western paper says:

I have often heard it stated, and have as often heard it denied on good authority, that in the rebel army the soldiers are furnished with half a pint of whisky each before going into battle. Rebel prisoners have told me that at the battle of Shiloh, especially, this "beverage" was furnished to them in great quantities. It is done, of course to make the men brutal and desperate. I have very good evidence that Bragg's soldiers at Chickamauga were plentifully supplied with it. Our wounded who were captured, and have since been paroled, unite in saying that they met thousands of rebel soldiers with canteens full of whisky in their possession; that they saw in the rear of the rebel army, an immense number of whisky barrels, which had been emptied during the two days' battle, and that they saw rebel soldiers help themselves to the article as if it were water. Longstreet's corps arrived on the ground after the battle had opened, and details were made from every regiment, of men, to carry whisky in buckets from the rear, to supply the Virginia veterans with the necessary stimulant. Some of our surgeons go so far as to say, that gunpowder was infused with the liquor, to make it more effective in destroying the humanity of the Confederates, and substituting the ferocity of the brute for the heroism of the soldier. They also state as a fact that atracted their attention, and they attribute it to the whisky and gunpowder, that the bodies of the dead rebels, in a very short time after their death turned black, and their features swelled to hideous distortion. The Richmond Examiner, in a recent issue, acknowledges the indebtedness of the rebels to King Alcohol for some of their military achievements, and at the same time deprecates the evil effects of the free distribution, in a sanitary point of view. However whisky may affect the physical condition of the rebels, I don't think it can steal away much brains from the Confederate ranks, when it is recollected that more than fifty per cent of the private soldiers of the Southern army that fall into our hands that can't read or write.

Complaints against Gen. Bragg.—The Richmond Whig of October 8th, says:

The Knoxville Register (now published at Atlanta) calls loudly for the reinforcement of Gen. Bragg. It says:

"The very existence of not only an organized army of the South, but of the State of Georgia as an independent republic, and of the Confederate States, depends upon the immediate reinforcement of Bragg's army."

But can we afford to keep on reinforcing a General who, after he has been made strong enough by additions to his force to gain a "complete victory," and has "destroyed the army" of the enemy, deliberately sits down and waits until that enemy has so fortified himself and so strengthened his ranks as to be more formidable, relatively as really, than ever? Bragg had fallen back before Rosecrans all the way from Murfreesboro to Chickamauga, because the latter was too strong for him.

But at Chickamauga Bragg was made too strong for Rosecrans and turned the tables on him, beating him back twelve or fifteen miles. While he had the advantage why didn't he finish the work? When he had Rosecrans on the trot why didn't he keep him at it? Why call a halt, fold his arms and stand still till Burnside could establish a junction with Rosecrans—till 15,000 men came from Indianapolis, and two corps could be sent from Meade? Reinforce Bragg again and will he not execute some imperfect feat and then wait for the enemy to get too strong for him? Many persons think that instead of reinforcing Gen. Bragg with a larger army it would be better to reinforce the army with an abler and bolder General.

Slavery in Arkansas.—An Arkansas letter to the St. Louis Democrat says:

In this State, thanks to the President, the slavery question is settled. All the Union men and non slaveholders in the State accept the proclamation as settled law, and are glad of it. The slaveholding rebels had so much faith in its virtue that they have fled the State with their slaves, so that the negro question is already settled. There is only one thing to fear. If the Governor commits the affairs of this State to some conservative pro-slavery man who will hob-nob with wealthy slaveholders and induce the hope in their minds that the proclamation is a "mere breath," and that they will yet be permitted to hold and own their slaves, then this State will be lost to the Union for years to come, and the horrors of a guerrilla war such as desolates Missouri will prevail in this State. As soon as the principal towns in the State are governed, it will be safe to call on the people to elect delegates to a convention to form a constitution. There is no earthly doubt but that such a convention would undo all that the rebel convention did, and settle the efficacy of the President's Proclamation, by declaring in the organic Act of the State that slavery was abolished and should never again exist in the State. All this can be done in a few months, if the man who is sent here to manage things wants it done.

Brownson on the Rebels.—Rev. O. A. Brownson, in a speech recently delivered in Philadelphia, made use of the following language:

We are not fighting States. We can't do it. We are fighting rebels. A State that secedes becomes a subject; rebelling it becomes a revolutionist. The war is a civil territorial war, including States and Territories, and every rebel in it is a public enemy. We are not fighting that abstraction called a State.

Doubly Repudiated.—T. C. Bingham, Esq., of Pittsburg, a Union candidate for the Pennsylvania Legislature, has notified Judge Woodward, the Copperhead candidate for Governor, that he shall move for a committee to investigate the charges of disloyalty now resting against the Judge. So that in addition to being beaten in the election, Woodward is in a fair way to be impeached.

How Battles make Men Feel.—A gallant soldier was once heard to say that his only measure of courage was this: "Upon the first fire I immediately look upon myself as a dead man. I then fight the remainder of the day regardless of danger as a dead man should be. All my limbs which I carry out of the field I regard as so much gained, or as so much saved out of the fire.

Spurring up Teamsters.—The Washington Republican of Oct 17th relates the following clever anecdote:

An incident occurred during the late retrograde movement of Meade's army which shows that General Buford is as fertile in expedients as he is brave in an emergency. While bringing up the rear with the rebels not far behind him, he came up with a train of wagons several miles long numbering, it is said, about eight hundred wagons. The train was stopped, and Buford could find no one in command to start it. No time was to be lost. The enemy were coming and Buford's command would be cut up and the train captured. The teamsters in that long line could not be made to comprehend and act. General Buford, in a few seconds comprehended and acted. He ordered one of his rifled pieces to be planted in the rear of the train and [illegible] shells up the road, over the wagons, at the longest range, and with a good elevation. A few of these "rotten cannon balls" bursting over the train [illegible] the sleepers and [illegible] the [illegible]. Believing that the rebels were close upon them, the wagon masters and teamsters applied whip and spur, and the whole caravan was moved off safely.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIMFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.

Dr. J. C. Ayer. I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your Cherry Pectoral. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq. of Utica, N. Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself and in my family ever since you invented it and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, MISS., Feb 7, 1856.

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people. HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, Ia., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your Pectoral by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb 4, 1856.

SIR: Your Cherry Pectoral is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years.

HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., Albion, Monroe Co., Iowa, writes, Sept 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your Cherry Pectoral for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach, but even to those the Cherry Pectoral affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your Cherry Pectoral has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours, with gratitude and regard,
ORLANDO SHELBY, of Shelbyville.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all round us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the everyday complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for Ayer's Pills, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.
